FlexTech International, Inc. Signs Exclusive Sales Representative Agreement with FlexKote Industries, Inc. to Sell FlexRock

FLOSSMOOR, ILLINOIS - - December 3, 2005 - - FlexTech International, Inc. announced today that it has acquired an Exclusive Sales Representative Agreement ("Agreement") with FlexKote Industries, Inc., DeRidder, Louisiana, to sell FlexRock. FlexRock is an acrylic polymer based exterior finish system that has the appearance of stucco or stone without the problems associated with cement based systems, such as, cracking and leaking.

The major advantages of FlexRock include but are not limited to: Faster application than other systems, reduced labor costs, tenacious adhesion directly to nearly any surface, microbiocides inhibit mildew, durable, energy efficient, and many other benefits.

The Agreement grants to FlexTech the exclusive, non -revocable and perpetual right and license to market, sell, distribute and provide products to any business within the United States of America except the states of Louisiana and Texas except for sales directly generated by FlexTech business contacts and efforts in those non -exclusive states.

The FlexTech International, Inc. Web Site is located at: FlexTechProducts.com.
